PERSONAL STATEMENT

My name is Prof. Athanasios N. Amasiatu from Nigeria. I am willing to stand for election into ISSP management council as member at Large for 2017-2021. My experience in Sport Psychology spans for over 30 years in both academic scholarship and professional practice. Firstly, I worked at the sports institute of Rivers State Isaka, Port Harcourt Nigeria. Later I transferred to University of Port Harcourt, Nigeria in the Department of Human Kinetics and Health Education. Currently I am serving as the Head of the department. As the University Sport psychologist, I am involved in the psychological preparation of the University athletes that represent the University and Nigeria at National and International competitions. My university's outstanding performance in NUGA and WAUG games have earned the University a global recognition that today World Bank has built the only high performance center in Nigeria for the training of National athletes. My long years of professional experience in Sport psychology and administrative competence will be an asset if elected into ISSP management council once more as a member at large. My involvement will contribute immensely to the increase of membership from developing countries especially from Africa. ISSP as a global organization needs such spread in membership so as to assist developing countries to continue to enhance the growth and development of Sport Psychology.
